DR. A. G. MORTIMER

Clergyman Who Was Ousted
From the Episcopal Ministry.

Dr. Mortimer was rector of the aristocratic St. Mark's Episcopal church, Philadelphia. He was deposed and unfrocked because of alleged moral laxity by Bishop Philip M. Rhinelander of the diocese of Pennsylvania. No cause was assigned in the formal notice. Dr. Mortimer was a noted authority on ecclesiastical law.

CHARGES AGAINST GLAVIS

Worked For State and Lumber Men at Same Time, It Is Alleged.

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 3.—Surveyor General Kingsbury made public his charges against Louis R. Glavis of Ballinger fame, formerly secretary of the state conservation and water commissions, who resigned both offices a few days ago, while Governor Johnson was conducting an executive investigation.

Kingsbury alleges that Glavis was employed by the Weed Lumber company and the West Side Lumber company to forward their interests before the United States land office at Washington while he was on the payroll of the state, and that acting as representative of these companies, Glavis employed Milton U'Ren, private secretary to Representative Ken of California, and B. Marshal, at the same time placing both men also upon the payroll of the state conservation commission.

BURNS SLEUTHS ON JOB

Sensational Developments Expected in Ashland County.

Columbus, O., Jan. 3.—Sensations are promised in Ashland county when Attorney General Hogan appears to day to look into troubles there. It is reported here that Burns detectives have dug up a mass of information, including four affidavits by citizens, to the effect that a member of the recent grand jury, which unexpectedly failed to return an indictment against a policeman who killed Clyde Ebert, had boasted that certain members had been placed on the jury to prevent the return of an indictment. Attorney General Hogan went to Ashland at the request of Governor Harmon.

Bacon Would Recognize China.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Senator Bacon of Georgia, ranking member of the committee on foreign relations, introduced a resolution granting recognition to the Republic of China. In introducing his resolution Senator Bacon stated that sufficient time has now elapsed to prove the stability of the new republic and that it is therefore entitled to recognition by the United States.

PROBERS GROW ANGRY AT DELAY MAY USE FORCE ON ROCKEFELLER

Chairman Pujo Intimates That His Patience Is Exhausted.

ISSUES A SHORT STATEMENT

Would Compel the Presence of the Millionaire Before the Committee Investigating the So-Called Money Trust—Special Meeting Called to Consider the Course to Be Followed in Rockefeller Case.

Washington, Jan. 3.—A threat that force would be used if necessary to compel the attendance of William Rockefeller on the so-called money trust committee of the house is contained in a statement made public by Representative Pujo of Louisiana, the chairman of the committee. Mr. Rockefeller's presence is desired by the committee, who insist that he has information in his possession relative to certain copper operations in which he was engaged with the late H. H. Rogers of the Standard Oil company. In his statement Chairman Pujo declared that Mr. Rockefeller's state of health must be determined by the committee itself and that second-hand information on the subject would not be accepted.

The statement further says: "Council for the committee and I offered to go to New York to Rockefeller's home or his office, there to take his depositions with his counsel present at his convenience, if his state of health were such as to discommod him from testifying for only a few minutes at a time. This offer has not been accepted."

Mr. Pujo's statement indicates the temper of the house leaders in the Rockefeller case. Unless the authorities back water there is good reason to believe that within a few days a resolution will be offered directing the issuance of a writ of attachment against Mr. Rockefeller, provided the New Yorker continues to refuse to accept service from one of the army of deputies now on his trail.

The Rockefeller case presents a legal problem, however, that is troubling many of the lawyers in congress. Some take the position that Rockefeller, by evading service of the subpoena, is already in contempt. Others contend he can not be held to be in contempt until he has refused to comply with the mandate of a subpoena.

The course to be followed in the case of Mr. Rockefeller will be considered at a meeting of the Pujo committee to be held Monday. It was learned that every residence owned by Mr. Rockefeller is under the surveillance of the house deputies.

Rockefeller at Sea?

Brunswick, Ga., Jan. 3.—A report has reached here from Jekyll Island that William Rockefeller and his son, William Rockefeller, Jr., are now on the high seas bound presumably to some foreign country, out of the reach of the process servers of the Pujo committee. The report says that Mr. Rockefeller and his son have been hiding on the island for more than three weeks.

England Won't Strike Back.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Reports from Great Britain that she proposes to strike back at the United States through the Welland canal, on the United States-Canadian border, should not be taken seriously, it was said by officials familiar with the Panama controversy. Great Britain has not made the slightest intimation to this government of such intention, nor is it expected that the British government even contemplates such action in the event of a failure on the part of the United States to meet her wishes in the Panama dispute.

Promoters Would Arrange Matches With Champion McCarty.

New York, Jan. 3.—Luther McCarty, now recognized as the white heavyweight champion of the world and holder of the diamond belt emblematic of this title, is prepared to meet Bombardier Wells, the British title holder; Jess Willard, the big Texan; Gunboat Smith, the Californian, or any other Caucasian. Promoter McCarty of Vernon is trying to secure Willard for a 20-round contest. Meanwhile the Garden Athletic club, through Manager Gibson, is trying to clinch an agreement with McCarty to box either Willard or Wells here in February or early in March. Willard, who boxed a 10-round draw with McCarty here last summer, is so confident that he can whip the new champion that he announces he is ready to match practically at McCarty's terms.

LAWS ARE TOO LOOSE IS CLAIM RICH PICKING FOR FIREBUGS

Find It Easy to Obtain Insurance to Any Amount.

GANGS WORK THE BIG TOWNS

New York's Fire Commissioner Tells How Sixty Thousand Dollars' Insurance Was Obtained on Household Goods Valued at Only Three Dollars and a Half—Inadequate Laws Blamed For Present Conditions.

New York, Jan. 3.—Inadequate laws which permit insurance companies to do business in an almost entirely heedless manner are responsible for the loss of many lives, the injury of many more persons and the destruction annually in New York city of $4,000,000 worth of property at least, according to a report made by Fire Commissioner Joseph Johnson to the mayor.

Encouraged by the ease with which insurance to any amount may be obtained from the companies and tempted by the sure and quick profits, more and more persons every year are turning to incendiarism until it is becoming a profession for many who, united in bands, are found not only in New York, but Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and other cities.

The commissioner goes into detail in describing how easy it is to get policies to any amount. One of his men engaged tenement apartment in December, 1911, and it was furnished with two wooden chairs worth $1.60, a small gas stove at $1.25, three sash curtains at 48 cents, and one cuspidor, all totaling $3.44. His man, W. S. Howe, and other firemen, got altogether $60,500 worth of insurance on this property.

To find out the difference in premiums, the furniture was removed to a neighborhood of a different character. Here it was the firemen divided up. Acting Sheriff William Guerin, owner of an 81 cent chair; Assistant Fire Marshal DeMalagon, possessor of the gas heater; Howe, as the owner of the chair and curtain; Montgomery Wade, who held title to the 9-cent cuspidor, and William E. Northrop, who claimed the gas tube, all having insurable interests, went out after the policies wholesale. As a result, these men got 50 $1,000 policies, each costing $2.

There was only one casual investigation. The man who did come up to the apartments simply said he supposed all their furniture had not yet arrived, and went away to recommend to the company that the policy be issued.

The Wild And Wooly East Section Stages One

New York, Jan. 3.—A young man with a 44-caliber revolver in his pocket marched into the new ticket office of the Erie railroad, on Broadway, and while the crowds jammed past the office the young man thrust his revolver under the nose of the one clerk in the place and robbed the cash drawer of $200. The clerk, Joseph Farrell, is 35 years old and has been with the Erie for many years. He is a trusted man.

UNCLE SAM NEEDS EQUIPMENT

Postmaster General Making Plans to Lay Such a Recommendation Before Congress at an Early Date—Parcel Post Destined to Absorb the Most Profitable Part of the Express Business, It Is Claimed.

Washington, Jan. 3.—A proposition to have the government take over all the express companies of the United States may be one of the first results of the adoption of the parcel post system. Postmaster General Hitchcock is said to favor the idea and to be making plans to lay such a recommendation before congress at an early date.

Two arguments are advanced in support of the contention that the government should assume all of the express business of the country. The first is that the parcel post is destined to absorb the most profitable part of the express business within a short period, which will ruin the express.

"Official" Photograph of The President Elect's Wife

© 1912, by Marceau, New York.

You have no doubt seen a picture of America's new "first lady of the land," Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, but this will interest you especially because it is her "official" photograph. Of all the pictures she has had taken since her husband was elected president this was selected by her as the best and promptly labeled "official." While Governor Wilson is laboring with appointments and the detail of his approaching assumption to office on March 4 next, Mrs. Wilson is busy with the social side of her new life. The duties as president's wife are many and exacting.

FALLING WALL NEARLY CRUSHES TWO GIRLS

A very serious accident nearly occurred at the new Odd Fellows' building in Milledgeville late Thursday afternoon when a section of the brick wall gave way and fell with terrific force to the sidewalk below, barely missing the young daughters of Contractor R. L. LaFollette and Lige Whitehead, who were passing at that moment.

Some of the brick struck within a foot of the girls, and pieces of the mortar struck them upon the head and shoulders, but did not injure them.

When the section of wall fell, the girls heard the noise and hurriedly dashed for safety, and when the brick and mortar struck the sidewalk it was where the two had been not over a second before. Those who saw the affair say they were sure the girls would be crushed to death until the hundred or more brick landed.

Freezing of the mortar is given as the cause of the section of wall giving away.

Four Generations At New Year's Dinner

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Cockerill on Court street, was the scene of a New Year's dinner of extraordinary interest, in that four generations were represented at the table.

The Cockerill family is a large one and there have been a number of dinners with three generations represented, but this was the first appearance of little Miss Helen Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Taylor (nee Ola Patton), Mr. and Mrs. Cockerill's great grand-daughter.

The dinner was a surprise to the host and hostess, their children and grandchildren taking them unawares with a splendid turkey dinner and all the trimmings, big hampers groaning with good things. There were thirty-five present and all but three belonged to the immediate family.

The spacious home was prettily adorned with scarlet carnations and greenery and the occasion one of much pleasure and an auspicious opening for the new year.

Hyer Sells Restaurant

Dee Maddux and Orle Blackmore have purchased the Hyer (formerly Smith Brothers) restaurant, taking charge Tuesday evening.

Mr. Maddux has been employed in the restaurant for several years, and is familiar with the business in all of its branches. Both he and Mr. Blackmore are well known in the city and county, and a liberal patronage is predicted.

The new proprietors have announced some radical changes in the manner of conducting the place.

Judge Courtright Dies in Circleville

Judge Samuel W. Courtright, well known among the older citizens of this county, died after an illness of two and a half years at his home in the Courtright block on North Court street, Circleville, Thursday morning.

Judge Courtright occupied the Common Pleas bench for a term of five years and was at that time the youngest judge in the state. In 1887 he was selected by the Supreme court of Ohio as a member of the commission to examine candidates for admission to the bar, and by annual reappointment served until 1892.

He was also prominent in fraternal circles and filled some of the highest positions in the state in Masonic, Odd Fellows and Knights of Honor organizations.

Judge Courtright leaves a wife and three daughters, Mrs. E. F. Dunn, of Columbus; Mrs. Clark K. Hunsicker, of Woodlyn, and Mrs. Jas. B. Patton, of East Orange, N. J.

The funeral will be held from the Presbyterian church of Circleville, Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, with the full Scottish Rite and Knight Templar.

POULTRY SHOW AND INSTITUTE CLOSE

The annual poultry show and Farmers' Institute came to a close at Jeffersonville Thursday evening, after one of the most successful institutes and poultry shows ever held there.

The entire Institute was carried out according to program, with the exception of what was pronounced by many to be conduct unbecoming a gentleman on the part of State Speaker L. G. Spencer, of Niles, O., who objected to having his attention called to the fact that he had exceeded his time limit, and became very discourteous to Pres. Reuben Rankin.

Taken altogether the institute was above the average in interest and attendance.

An entertainment by the High school pupils Thursday night was largely attended and greatly enjoyed.

In the poultry exhibition over 200 extra fine birds were shown, and Judge Ira C. Keller, tied the ribbons.

Parcels Post At Local Office

The first parcels post package to leave the Washington postoffice was sent by Mr. Henry Brownell, and contained one dozen eggs. It went to Ashland, Ohio, and cost eighteen cents.

And the first package received here contained a dressed chicken, sent to Mr. Seth E. Parrett by Mr. David F. Roebuck, of Bloomingburg. It cost 14 cents to send the chicken to Mr. Parrett.

Quite a number of packages were received and dispatched at the local office, and while the new system has not greatly increased the work of the office force, it is expected to grow to enormous proportion.

Other offices in the county report the receipt and dispatch of many packages.

BRONCHITIS PREVENTED.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Man Tells of Best Remedy.

At this season of year with such sudden changes, it is so easy to take cold, and almost before one is aware there is inflammation in the bronchial tubes—a hard cough and unless checked in time chronic pulmonary troubles may result.

Wilbur Adams of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "A severe bronchial trouble contracted in January caused me much difficulty about breathing. My chest felt clogged up and there was considerable soreness, all of which made me quite uneasy, besides being very painful."

I tried different remedies without help, but I am glad to say that Vinol cured my bronchial trouble which had lasted for three months. My breathing is all right now and the soreness entirely gone from my chest."

Vinol contains the curative, healing principles of fresh cod livers (without oil) and tonic iron. We guarantee it to be delicious in taste and to satisfy you with its medicinal effects. Blackmer and Tanquary, Druggists, Washington C. H., Ohio.

FOR DECORATING GLASS.

Plastic Material Fused Thereon Is Any Outline Desired.

A quick and inexpensive method of making decorated glass has been invented by a Pennsylvanian. The process consists in depositing raised lines of some plastic material on the glass in outline of whatever design is desired. The glass is then fired and fuses with the material thereon, making a clear design. Colors can be applied to the glass wherever desired, thus giving the effect of stained glass, as in church windows, fancy door lights, etc. Or the process without coloring can be made to resemble

Quick and Inexpensive.

Leaded glass. It will be readily noted that this is a very quick and simple method of decoration, as compared with the old process. Leaded border effects can be secured in the same way, though the chief value of this new method is the facility with which floral or figure designs can be produced by any person who is a sufficiently competent draughtsman to outline them in the plastic material.

BEST EAR OF CORN IN FAYETTE COUNTY

The above almost perfect ear of corn is regarded as being without a superior in Fayette county, and probably has few superiors in the entire country.

It is the ear grown by Mr. H. W. Bussert, of South Solon, and which won sweepstakes at the Jeffersonville show last week. It is now the property of Postmaster Warren W. Williams, of Jeffersonville, who purchased the ear from Mr. Bussert.

The ear is of the famous Dunfeath Yellow Dent variety, and is 10 1-2 inches in length, 7 3-4 inches in circumference at the large end and 6 3-4 near the small end. It weighs 18 ounces and contains 18 rows of 56 grains each.

The dark spots on the ear are where grains have been removed for examination in judging. Nearly every grain on the ear is almost perfect, and expert corn judges have pronounced it an unusually high class ear.

Mr. Bussert has more of the corn which is pronounced almost as good as the sweepstakes winner.

It will be good news to Fayette corn growers to learn that Mr. Bussert will move into this county in the early spring, and will occupy the Frank M. Kennedy farm on the State road in Paint township, so that another year Paint township will rival Jefferson when it comes to corn raising, and the honors won by Mr. Bussert will come to Fayette county where it really has belonged, as Mr. Bussert originally secured the seed corn from this county.

Runaway Girl In This City

Two women, one a girl of sixteen years of age, were in this city looking for work Thursday, and according to the story told by the girl she had quarreled with her mother near London recently, and left home in company with the woman with her, who was aged about 24 years.

The young woman was unusually large for her age and had evidently left a country home. It is said her mother is not aware of her whereabouts. Whether the two women secured employment is not known.

NOT A MISTAKE.

A public official, and it matters not in this connection whether he was an officer of the city, county or state, announces that he now sees he made a mistake in one of his first official acts and that if he had it to do over again his course would be different.

This generally is a hopeful sign and an indication of a man of character, conviction and honesty, because it really requires force of character to publicly acknowledge an error.

The trouble in this particular case, however, is that the official who acknowledges himself to have been in error, knew he was making a mistake when he took the action he now regrets. But he yielded then to a pressure from outsiders, granted the personal wish of men who had no official duty to perform, but to whom the official in question was under obligations.

In the light of that knowledge, therefore, the official does not mean, then that his judgment was in error about his official act, but that he made a mistake in yielding to the pressure, and if he had it to do over again he would not yield.

Neither the official act nor the public confession of error, nor both together is sufficient to re-establish that official in public esteem.

To yield to pressure is not a mistake—it is a form of dishonesty and a man who yields his honest convictions to a pressure once is not a safe man to trust in the future, no matter how much he regrets it.

Mistakes can be rectified and corrected, but weakness never can be cured. If he was weak before he will be weak in the future.

Such a man is far more dangerous in the public service than the honest bungler.

SPLENDID BEGINNING.

The thirty-three dynamiters convicted in the Federal court at Indianapolis ate their breakfast on New Years morning within the walls of the Federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas.

All the necessary, after the verdict, formalities were rushed through by trial Judge Anderson, sentenced was passed, the required commitment papers made out and on the afternoon of the last day of the year the prisoners were hustled aboard a special train for the prison to begin their several sentences.

Standing out prominently at the conclusion of this notable trial are two rugged facts, first perhaps in importance is the swiftness and certainty of punishment in the Federal courts. Second, only to that fact is that other one—that honest organized labor has been purged of a band of selfish murderers who have stood as an impossible barrier in the path of progress.

Honest labor in this great free nation is not required to resort to such awful methods as dynamiting to further its cause.

Outrages committed in the name of honest labor by a band of villainous murderers and assassins have been the chiefest aids to labor oppressors.

In the conviction and punishment of these criminals, even those who doubted it have been taught that no organization formed for the commission of crime, no matter how big and how powerful it is, nor how strong its association with reputable organizations may be, is strong enough to defy the law.

In meeting out punishment swiftly and surely to these criminals, the Federal courts have done much to aid organized labor and done much to place the nation right before the world.

The delivery of the guilty men to the Warden at Leavenworth prison was a fitting beginning to the new year. It was a forceful example of the supremacy of law and a reminder to all men everywhere that secret anarchy can not flourish in this free nation.

Our Real Race Suicide Problem

By E. E. RITTENHOUSE, Expert on the Conservation of Human Life

We are not only reducing the fertility of our race and also shortening the span of life, but we are permitting at least 650,000 American lives to be destroyed annually which we could SAVE by the application of simple and well known sanitary and other PRECAUTIONS. This is OUR REAL RACE SUICIDE PROBLEM.

We have made progress in preventing life waste, but it has been confined almost wholly to contagious or infectious diseases. At the same time the death rate from the degenerative diseases of middle life and old age, against which we have waged no war, has steadily increased.

THE ECONOMIC LOSS IS STUPENDOUS, but it is INSIGNIFICANT compared to the misery, suffering, poverty, immorality and crime which result from the needless sickness and premature death from which the nation is now suffering.

In the last analysis the war against preventable disease is a STRUGGLE BETWEEN THE DOLLAR AND THE DEATH RATE.

Poetry For Today

SONG OF THE NEW YEAR.

"What shall the new year bring to me,
How shall this glorious year of years
Give of its triumphs and its glee
And of its failings and its tears?"
Ah, let the idle dreamer sit
And sin through such vain questioning.
Let him ask what the year may bring,
I ask what I may give to it.

Here lie the riches of the past
Where we may claim them as our own;
Across expenses gray and vast
Time's treasure fleets are hither blown.
The dust is deep o'er Illum's walls,
The past is silent with its wrongs,
The present unto us belongs,
And glad with hope the Future calls.

The sun with new magnificence
Sends forth his beams, and I am here
To hail with buoyant reverence
The dawning of this latest year!
I ask not what its gifts may be;
But, hoping, start upon my way
To make it richer day by day
Through profits it may gain from me.

—Chicago Record-Herald.

"A Connecticut pastor of a denomination well known to us was questioning a boy pupil of the Sunday-school. The lad answered greatly to the satisfaction of the good man, but finally the latter was stumped when the youngster made his last reply."

"What commandment, my son, did Adam break when he ate the apple?" asked the pastor.

"Please, sir," returned the boy, "there were no commandments at that time."

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Crooksville Potters Strike. Crooksville, O., Jan. 3.—Eight hundred union stoneware potters are on a strike here because the manufacturers insisted that the differences over a new wage scale be arbitrated on the basis of a 10 per cent reduction. The potters want to arbitrate with the expiring wage scale as a basis. Nine potteries are affected by the strike.

Three Drowned at Toledo. Toledo, O., Jan. 3.—Three children were drowned and a mother and two other children had narrow escapes from the same fate when crossing the Miami and Erie Canal when the ice broke. The drowned children are Hatlie Ormston, 9; Helen Ormston, her sister, 11, and Fletcher Cooper, 3.

Judge Courtwright Dead. Circleville, O., Jan. 3.—Judge Samuel W. Courtwright, 70, is dead. He was colonel of the staff of Former Governors Headly and Campbell, former president of the council and the board of education, and served on the common pleas bench five years.

Harmon Won't Test Con-Con Vote. Columbus, O., Jan. 3.—Governor Harmon and his attorney, George B. Okey, have declined to make the suit testing the status of circuit judges elect a vehicle for testing the validity of the constitutional election of Sept. 3.

Commodore's Mother Dies. Zanesville, O., Jan. 3.—Mrs. Letitia Buchanan, 81, mother of Commodore Wilson W. Buchanan, retired commander of the battleship Ohio at the time of his retirement from the service two years ago, died of infirmities here.

ARABS AT THEIR BATH

Gathering Place for the Women—Voluntary Offerings by the Religious.

Dr. Georges Martin of the thermal station of Hammam-Rirha gives an interesting account of the Arabs who come in crowds to take the baths at that station. Their number every year can be estimated at more than 20,000.

Of these bathers about two-thirds are women. Besides the medical effect the baths are for the Arab woman a meeting place where she encounters her friends, as they remain a long time in the baths, three-quarters of an hour or more. They dip themselves in the water from time to time; then, sitting on the curb, they chat, laugh and sing.

Sometimes one of them addresses an invocation to the Sultan Silman (Solomon), patron of the springs hidden in the mountain. The more believing sometimes receive their compensation in seeing the steam rise from the waters. After the bath the native rolls himself in his cloak and lies in the sun.

To quench the burning thirst which the very warm bath gives, Arabs suck the juice of lemons or oranges or they go to the "cafe maure" attached to the baths to drink a tiny cup of coffee. Many Arabs, instead of coming to the establishment, prefer to take the bath in the open air. On the side of the hill a spring flows from the rock and the natives come to bathe in the natural basin where the water gushes out.

As a votive offering the women hang portions of their veils on the neighboring bushes. The childless come there plausibly to plunge in their small stuff dolls. It is there that the prayer is above all agreeable to Sidi Silman. They sacrifice fowls to him; they burn incense and spices in the earthen braziers, and it is in his honor that the little many colored wax tapers stuck in the ground burn often at night.

Another Batch of Convicts Released.

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 3.—Governor George W. Donaghey, who recently almost emptied the state penitentiary by wholesale pardons, spent his last monthly pardon day examining 105 petitions for pardons, and at a late hour extended clemency to 36 more convicts.

STRIKERS SETTLE STRIKE

Textile Workers Will Go to Work Next Monday Morning.

Little Falls, N. Y., Jan. 3.—The strike of the Little Falls textile workers, which has been in progress since Oct. 1, was settled by the strikers themselves through the efforts of the state board of mediation and arbitration. The workers decided to go to work Monday. The terms on which they agreed to return to work, as far as pay is concerned, are the rates now being paid by the manufacturers and which were the basis of the settlement or attempted settlement made three or four weeks ago. These are substantial increases over what was paid previous to the strike.

John R. Cassidy, nominee for clerk, announced his selection of John Conway, Hamilton county, for index clerk, and Miss Mary Turner, Butler, for stenographer, in addition to selections previously announced.

HAVE COLOR IN YOUR CHEEKS —BE BETTER LOOKING— TRY OLIVE TABLETS.

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

These Olive Tablets oil the bowels—yet have no oily taste. They are a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil.

If you want a clear pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause. Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

TRAGIC CULMINATION OF MARITAL WOES

Broker Kills Wife and Self
Following Reconciliation.

New York, Jan. 3.—Henry C. Edey, the New York broker whose marital troubles created a sensation this summer in Belleport and vicinity, following the service on him recently of partners in a suit by Gardner Murdock, liveryman, for the alienation of his wife's affections, shot and killed his wife, then himself, in a bedroom of their home overlooking Great South bay. Mr. and Mrs. Edey were reconciled three weeks after the wife's disappearance last summer with the liveryman. They traveled extensively in the West Indies. They returned to Belleport some six weeks ago, and living, it was supposed, in perfect harmony.

The only cause assigned by Coroner Moore and the Edey family for the murder and suicide is the serving of papers in the alienation suit by Murdock. In this suit Mrs. Murdock said that she had signed a supporting affidavit to the complaint and was to be a willing witness for her husband. When Mrs. Edey disappeared with Murdock, wagging tongues said it that the two men had exchanged wives. It is said Mrs. Edey handsomely rewarded the liveryman for his departure. Mrs. Murdock is a handsome, black-haired little woman.

Companies, it is said, and that, therefore, the equitable thing to do is for the government to take over the entire business before innocent investors in the stock and bonds of the various companies have been done irreparable damage and injustice.

The second argument is that the postoffice department needs the equipment owned by the express companies in order to be able to handle the business that is coming to the parcel post. The new branch of the postal service is in imminent danger of being swamped.

If the government should take over the express companies it would have available at once a full equipment of delivery trucks and wagons and the cars, which the railroad companies lease to the express companies, could be used by the government.

If any Democrat challenges this leadership let him come out in the open. The people will decide."

I saved a doctor's bill for one 25c bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." A mean stuffy cold, with hoarse wheezy breathing is just the kind that runs into bronchitis or pneumonia. Don't trifly with such serious conditions but take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound promptly. Contains no opiates. Blackmer & Tanquary. Adv.

Concord, N. H., Jan. 3.—The deadlock in the state legislature was broken by a coalition of 25 Progressives and the Democrats. The Democratic leaders agreed to elect as speaker William J. In return for the speakership the Progressives will help the Democrats in all other elective offices except that of clerk and assistant clerk of the legislature.

The complete program of the one-

This included the seating of four Democrats in the state senate, where there was no election by the people; the election of three Democratic members of the governor's council and the election of Samuel D. Felker of Rochester, Democrat, as governor over Franklin Worcester, Republican, the other constitutional candidate.

All of these elections were carried through by a margin of 25 votes, which was the strength of these Republicans, who after election left their party and announced that they were Progressives and would act independently.

Bulgarian Delegate Predicts That the Conference Will Fail.

London, Jan. 3.—Peace in the Balkans depends upon a map. If the map that the Turkish delegation is now preparing showing the proposed boundary between Bulgaria and Turkey is not satisfactory to the allies, their representatives have let it be known very emphatically that a sudden ending would befall the conference.

The positive statements of M. Baneff, the leading Bulgarian delegate, and Rechid Pasha, the Turkish leading plenipotentiary, in regard to the position of each country about Adrianople, confirms the belief that the conference is bound to fail. The opinion is pretty generally expressed that the next session will be the last.

POETRY WORTH READING

On the "Congressional Record." The hour for going to press was near, The forms awaited the make-up, The managing editor dropped a tear And longed for a good old shake-up.

"Newspaper life is hard," said he, "When it comes to running a sheet."

That hasn't a notion of policy, Nor even a ten-line beat.

Never a line of telegraph, Never a stick of 'mis,' Never a cub to get the gaff—

Never a sheet like this!"

The editor yelled for a copy boy,

But never a boy came nigh.

He looked for a copy-desk slave to annoy,

And mournfully heaved a sigh.

"We haven't a wedding, a smash-up, a crime,

Railroads, markets or weather, We're scooped on politics every time,

And our ads, are light as a feather.

Never a line of local news,

Never a stick of State,

Never a change of type to use—

Pity the editor's fate!"

He gnashed his teeth in impotent rage,

And groaned in his deep dejection,

"We haven't a book or a theater page,

We haven't a sporting section;

A half-tone cut, a Sunday story,

A woman's page or an office cat,

How can a journalist hope for glory

Running a sheet like that?

Never a sparkling paragraph,

Never a bit of verse,

Never a devil, never a staff—

Could editor's lot be worse?"

Bishop Thornton, who is anxious to find an alternative to the "smooth, suave name" of influenza, should consult "La Grippe," by Dr. G. Andre, a work published last October. There he will find a list of twenty-one names bestowed by the French on that unpleasant malady since its first appearance in A. D. 475. The most appropriate and popular name appears to be "la grippe," which was given because of the sudden and violent way in which patients are seized. Another popular name in the eighteenth century was "petit courrier," because it reached everybody. Most of the French names, however, are quite as suave as our own, but some of the terms employed by other nations are sufficiently harsh to suit the greatest sufferers, the most effective in Dr. Andre's list being the Swedish "snufskaka" and the Dutch "zinkkinghoorts."—London Chronicle.

War Without Notice.

Reventlow, of the German navy, says that the days of honest declaration of war or of open preparations for war are no more and that war can break out any old time without formal notice. He says the next naval war will begin in the bat of an eye, and at a time when the enemy is not ready for any attack, and that breach of international law will be given as the cause of hostilities. He warns Germany to disregard any protestations of peace. The pessimistic officer thinks straightforward talk between nations is all poppycock.

W. R. Fox, 195 W. Washington St., Noblesville, Ind., says: "After suffering many months with kidney trouble, after trying other remedies and prescriptions, I purchased a box of Foley Kidney Pills which not only did me more good than any other remedies I ever used, but have positively set my kidneys right. Other members of my family have used them with similar results." You will save time and money and avoid needless pain and suffering by taking Foley Kidney Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. Try them. Refuse substitute. Blackmar & Taquary. Ady

THE CUB REPORTER AND THE AMERICAN

His Interview With the Family of a Woman Who Died Aged 104

A TRUE SAN ANTONIO EPISODE

What Happened When He Sought Facts in Regard to the Ancient Dame—Found the Only Americans—Fancy Write-up not Wanted.

To gain the ripe old age of 104 may be said to be quite a distinction and it was therefore natural that the city editor should send the cub to interview the family of the woman who had just said farewell to this vale of tears in which she had spent the number of years stated. Being the first time in his life that he was to write up so superannuated a person the cub placed himself in a very journalistic frame of mind and proceeded to get the story.

The old lady had lived in San Antonio's Mexican quarter for over four score years and had now closed her eyes there. As he came to the house he noticed that it was rather better than those the so-called Mexicans usually live in. Instead of the usual abode sort of one-room shack, he saw a little cottage showing the latest fool notions of an architect in the matter of using lumber and giving no space in return. What is more the yard was scrupulously clean; there was a little green lawn and a profusion of flowers.

Up the steps went the cub and the first thing that met his gaze was a coffin decked a la mode. It stood in the hall of the cottage amid up-to-date surroundings, such as cheap wall paper, cheap chromos, and cheap straw matting.

For some moments cubby was at a loss. There was no door bell and to shout might possibly disturb the occupant of the black box. But there are the makings of a good reporter in the cubby so he made a noise like a mule team crossing a wooden bridge. The noise had its effect. From one of the doors leading into the hall issued a tall gaunt man with a complexion that seemed to have undergone generations of sunburn.

To him the cubby stated his errand. The man was very polite, though not profusely so. Much as the cub would have liked to avoid this, the man invited him to step into the hall and before the embryo scribe could ask him to desist he had uncovered the face of the dead woman.

Now the cubby had read a good deal about mummies, had even seen some of them and here surely was one. There was no more plasticity in that face than had it been prepared for burial by the embalmers of Khufu, 5,000 and some odd B. C.

Now the man looked sixty if a day.

"How old was your mother?" asked the cub.

"You mean my grandmother," corrected the man. "One hundred and four."

The cub studied the face some more and then looked at that of the man.

"You are Mexicans, I suppose?" he queried.

Had the cub not had his doubts on this he would not have asked the question. He knew a Mexican when he saw him, but this man evidently was not one of that race.

"No, we are not Mexicans," replied the man with some dignity.

"But the name," put in the cubby, "Garcia is typically Mexican—that is, Spanish."

"We are Americans," said the cub with an assenting smile.

"Oh, no, we are not," corrected the man with an emphasis on the pronoun "we."

"We are not, eh," asked the cub somewhat puzzled.

"No we are not," answered the man drawing himself up so that every inch of six feet showed to advantage. "We are the only Americans known of. My grandmother was a full blood Cherokee, born in the swamps of the lower Mississippi two years after they had been ceded by the emperor of France to the United States. Please, don't make your write-up too romantic and fancy."

Japanese Wood for Sleepers.

The Atchison railroad is about to experiment at Great Bend, Kan., with cocobolo and Japanese oak as material for sleepers. This wood is so hard that it is almost impossible to drive spikes into it, and screw spikes in bored holes will be used. It is expected that the sleepers will last from 25 to 30 years. They cost a trifle more than the American oak delivered in California. The reason for experimenting with them is that native oak is becoming scarce, and it is deemed wise to look in time for a substitute.

St. Louis, Mo.—The suit for $2.16 against Alton S. Miller, President of the Union Electric Light and Power Company, by the Pennsylvania Railroad was dismissed by Justice of the Peace Walker at the request of the railroad attorneys. The amount involved represents the price of a ticket

HAVE YOU A LITTLE SKATER IN YOUR HOME?

H. T. Webster in New York Globe.

Inquisitiveness Reward. When the train stopped at the Southern station, a tourist sauntered out on the form. There were the usual number of sunbonneted women, "crackers" and stray dogs. A scrub oak stood lean animal scraggly bristles.

The tourist was interested.

"What do you call that?" queried of a lanky native.

"That be a Lawg," elucidated other.

"What kind of a 'og?'"

"Rahzohbach hawg."

"That so?"

"Yeas, that's so."

"Well, what in tarnation is he doing rubbing against that tree?"

"He's stropping himself, mister, just stropping himself, and if you ask any more fool questions around here we'll pull you off the train." And the tourist wisely withdrew.

SIMPLE RULES FOR SUCCESS.

Pleasure and simplicity are two old acquaintances. Entertain simply, meet your friends simply. If you come from work well done, are an amiable and genuine as possible toward your companions, and speak no evil of the absent, your success is assured.—Charles Wagner.

OLD-TIME HOSPITALITY.

An old-fashioned woman doesn't think she has observed all the rules of hospitality unless she asks her guests to have chicken ten times, potatoes six times and bread twice.—Atchison Globe.

EPISCOPAL ANATOMY.

"Our dear bishop looks very stiff and dignified," remarked old Mrs. Croxley; "but I assure you he has a warm, kind heart beating beneath his gaiters."—Tit-Bits.

HISTORY

OF THE BUCKEYE STATE BUILDING AND LOAN COMPANY, RANKIN BUILDING, 22 WEST GAY STREET, COLUMBUS, OHIO.

4. Another policy of The Buckeye has been the rule not to loan any money to its own officers and directors, or their families. This is a splendid rule and cannot be too highly commended. This insures safety in loaning as outsiders will not obtain any more than they should. Assets $6,300,000. Five per cent. paid on time deposits.

Courtesy includes not merely social kindness, graces of speech, absence of business associates and of all the fellow citizens with whom a man of affairs may have business to transact.

It is not American to keep one citizen waiting all day at the door because he is poor, and to grant another citizen an interview because it is believed he is rich. Wisdom is not confined to a purse, and frequently much wisdom may be learned from a poor man.
